THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.

There is no man so rich and independent, or so poor or so humble but may very properly take a day off to think over the blessings he enjoys and cultivate a grateful feeling, which is the meaning of a Thanksgiving day. It is a day to forget the troubles of life and look on the bright side of things, if happy and prosperous to give thanks for the same and if in distress to return equal thanks that the distress is no greater. Thanksgiving is peculiarly an American institution and is said to have originated in the grateful feelings of a starving New England colony on the arrival of a ship loaded with supplies. It is also appropriately American, for of all the nations on this great globe life for the average man is superlatively blessed. We are apt to underestimate the advantages which have become common from usage and hence fail to appreciate what a boon that individual liberty is which we all enjoy to an extent never known before in the history of the world. Nothing but travel in other lands can give the American a realization of how much better America is for humanity than other lands, how favored it is in material good and how grand it is in enlarged ideas of human rights and human equality and its regard for truth, justice and fraternity. It is the one land and the only land where law and gospel, literature and song speak one language to men and where the dignity that doth hedge about a king, surrounds the humblest, honest citizen as it does the great and the wealthy. It is the one land where the intellect is not dwarfed and stunted by its surroundings and when the humblest genius may aspire to the loftiest place and his humility forgotten in his success or made a matter of praise. In this favored land Thanksgiving Day is superlatively appropriate, for her well fed, well dressed, free and equal millions are favored as no other nation in the world ever has been since the beginning of time. A day of thanksgiving is also appropriate to the individual, for even if things are bad they might have been worse. A man may thank his stars that he was not born to be a woman and a woman that she was not born to be a man, a lawyer that he is not a preacher and a newspaper man that he is not a boot black. A very little reflection will serve to show one, calamities that he has escaped, bits of good luck he has enjoyed which might never have happened and enough other morsels of good for them to put one in an excellent humor with himself and the future, which is the aim of Thanksgiving in a general way. To the devout there comes a more pleasing sense, that in this blind, weary world, staggering on through countless ages of sin and suffering, there is still a God, who, though hidden among black clouds, still holds his children safe in his hands and allows not even a tiny sparrow to fall to the ground without his divine permission.

The county officers who will soon enter on their duties are tried men and true, and McLennan county will be proud of them.

Farmers will still sow some small grain if the weather continues favorable a few days but the grain crop will be very small in acreage next year.

After we have published the election returns of all the other states it is to be hoped we shall not have long after to wait to hear the returns from Texas.

The latest news from West Virginia is to the effect that the election elected but whom nobody seems to know. It was so close on all the candidates that even the official count seems unable to determine the result. The republicans seem voracious to gobble up the little state.

The copious rains almost insure a good crop next year and another good crop means prosperity beyond compute.

The prohibition vote of New York state is published. It stood, Harrison 650,314 Cleveland 635,949, Fisk (Prohibition) 30,213, Harrison plurality 14,350.

Great and universal interest is felt in the forth coming message of President Cleveland. Whatever it may contain of subject matter, we may be assured that the president will afford no comfort to his enemies.

The telegraph wires are heavy with the news of wreck and ruin on the high seas in the great storm which swept the Atlantic Coast. It will be weeks before the full list of casualties will be known and many, of the sea blotted out entirely.

Every body is fixing up a cabinet for the republican president and the only man who could fix up one that would stick obstinately refuses to do so and is dumb as an oyster. There is no doubt however that the new cabinet will contain one representative southern man.

Mrs. Gen. Sherman Dead. New York, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Gen. W. T. Sherman died at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Sherman had been suffering from heart trouble for a number of years. Her malady assumed a serious aspect three weeks ago, resulting in death this morning.

Mrs. Sherman's remains will be taken to St. Louis, Mo., for interment. St. Louis is the old home of the Sherman family, several members of which are buried there. A special car has been placed at the disposition of Gen. Sherman to convey the remains west. The train will start to-morrow morning and reach its destination Saturday morning. The interment will take place Saturday afternoon.

Quarantine Raised. Galveston, Nov. 28.—State Health Officer Dr. R. Rutherford of Houston, was in the city to-day and announced that quarantine had been raised, except against infected vessels from infected ports. In other words, the general restriction against all vessels from south of 25 degrees has been raised. In consequence of this the quarantine force at this port will be curtailed, except as to the number of officers necessary to carry out the regulations as to infected vessels or those from infected ports.

The jury in the case of John Lovejoy, charged with the murder of Aaron Williamson, colored, was out only ten minutes to-day, when they returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, and Mr. Lovejoy was acquitted. The case, according to the evidence, was so closely one of self-defense that it was submitted to the jury without argument.

Warning From White Caps in Ohio. Solvedo, O. Nov. 28.—A sensation has been caused in this part of the state by the discovery that the White Caps, who have heretofore confined their ranges to southern and central Ohio and Indiana, have extended their operations into northwestern Ohio. All over the trees near the home of ex-Governor Foster, at Fostoria, was discovered yesterday notices warning all men who are in the habit of getting drunk and abusing their families and failing to properly provide for them that they will, unless they mend their ways, receive a visit from the White Caps. Similar notices were found in other towns in the vicinity.

Union Men Turned Out.

New York, Nov. 28.—The boss ale and porter brewers met in New York at an early hour this morning and resolved to lock out all union men and employ only non-union men. The headquarters of the ale and porter bosses presented a lively scene this morning, when hundreds of men formed in line to be registered to take the places of the journeymen brewers to be locked out. The men employed in the various breweries were interrogated to-day as to whether they were ready to give up the union. Those replying in the affirmative were retained in their work, while those expressing their loyalty to the union were informed that there was no more work for them. The number of men to be locked out cannot be ascertained yet, but it is thought a large majority will stick by the union.
